CREATION BASIS FOR USER INTEREST OF NATIONAL BUDGET SYSTEM OF THE FUNDS MANAGER IN THE NATIONAL BUDGET SYSTEM

The session focuses on the nature and functions of the chief administrators and budget managers as the basis for the creation of an important element of the system of internal budgetary control, such as the interest of the user directly interested in financial control information - the interested user. It is reasonable that, based on today's perception of their role and place in the budgetary process, it is difficult to establish effective monitoring of the financial performance of budget managers and recipients. And only the implementation of the provisions laid down in the Soviet theory of financial management, concerning budget managers, will allow the chief manager to develop an interest in information as a result of the budgetary control exercised by the supervisory bodies formed by him, as an interested user.
